Unanimous Decision of the Tribunal

The First-tier tribunal for Scotland (Housing and Property Chamber) (‘the tribunal’) certifies that the work required by the Repairing Standard Enforcement Order relative to the Property made on 7 November 2023 has been completed. Accordingly, the said Repairing Standard Enforcement Order is discharged.

Background

1. On 7 November 2023 the First-tier Tribunal for Scotland (Housing and Property Chamber) (“the tribunal”) issued a decision requiring the Landlord to comply with the repairing standard enforcement order (“RSEO”) made by the tribunal on 7 November 2023.

2. The Repairing Standard Enforcement Order (“RSEO”) required the Landlord to Instruct a suitably qualified Gas Safe registered engineer to inspect and carry out all works necessary to leave the gas central heating boiler and gas hob in good working order. Thereafter to provide the First-tier Tribunal for Scotland (HPC) with an up-to-date and satisfactory Gas Safety Record from a suitably qualified and Gas Safe registered heating engineer on the safety of the gas central heating system and all other gas appliances in the property.

All within 42 days.

3. Following the expiry of the period for completion of the works a re-inspection was scheduled for 12th March 2024. Notification was given to the Tenant by email, and to the Landlord by post on 5th February 2024.

Reinspection

4. On 12 March 2024, tribunal members reinspected the property and found that none of the works required by the RSEO had been completed. The Ordinary member prepared a report containing photographs taken during the inspection. The report was issued to the parties on 19th March, 2024.

5. On 20th March 2024 the Applicant responded to the re-inspection report agreeing with its contents and requesting a Rent Relief Order of 90%. They did not request a hearing. No response was received from the Landlords.

Compliance

6. On 15 January 2026 the new owners of the property contacted the tribunal and confirmed that the works required by the RSEO had been completed. The new owners of the property tendered a satisfactory up to date gas safety certificate, a satisfactory up to date EICR, together with a sequence of photographs showing the complete refurbishment of the property.

7. By email dated 21 January 2026 the third-party applicant confirmed that they were satisfied that the works required by the RSEO were satisfactorily completed.

8. The tribunal is now satisfied that the work required by the RSEO have been completed.

Decision

9. The tribunal therefore decided to issue a certificate of completion of works in terms of s.60 of the Housing (Scotland) Act 2006.

Right of Appeal

In terms of section 46 of the Tribunals (Scotland) Act 2014, a party aggrieved by the decision of the tribunal may appeal to the Upper Tribunal for Scotland on a point of law only. Before an appeal can be made to the Upper Tribunal, the party must first seek permission to appeal from the First-tier Tribunal. That party must seek permission to appeal within 30 days of the date the decision was sent to them.

Where such an appeal is made, the effect of the decision and of any order is suspended until the appeal is abandoned or finally determined by the Upper Tribunal, and where the appeal is abandoned or finally determined by upholding the decision, the decision and any order will be treated as having effect from the day on which the appeal is abandoned or so determined.
