The Tribunal comprised:-

Mr Robert Buchan - Ordinary Member

Whereas in terms of their decision dated 24th April 2022 the First-tier Tribunal for Scotland (Housing and Property Chamber) (‘the Tribunal’) determined that the landlord has failed to comply with the duty imposed by Section 14 (1)(b) of the Housing (Scotland) Act 2006 (“The Act”) and in particular that the Landlord has failed to ensure that -

- a) the Property is wind and watertight and in all other respects reasonably fit for human habitation;
- b) The structure and exterior of the house (including drains, gutters and external pipes) are in a reasonable state of repair and in proper working order,

The Tribunal now requires the Landlord to carry out such work as is necessary for the purposes of ensuring that the House concerned meets the repairing standard and that any damage caused by the carrying out of any work in terms of this Order is made good.

In particular the Tribunal requires the Landlord:-

- a) To instruct a qualified chartered building surveyor to investigate the source of dampness and mould within the Property and to prepare a report recommending remedial works including repair of the exterior of the dormer window and submit to the Tribunal for further consideration;

- b) To repair or replace and make good the window in bedroom 1 window and to render it closable, lockable and in proper working order ;

The Tribunal order that the works specified in this Order must be carried out and completed within the period of 3 months from the date of service of this Notice.

A landlord, tenant or third party applicant aggrieved by the decision of the Tribunal may appeal to the Upper Tribunal for Scotland on a point of law only. Before an appeal can be made to the Upper Tribunal, the party must first seek permission to appeal from the First-tier Tribunal. That party must seek permission to appeal within 30 days of the date the decision was sent to them.

In terms of Section 63 of the Act, where such an appeal is made, the effect of the decision and of any order is suspended until the appeal is abandoned or finally determined by the Upper Tribunal, and where the appeal is abandoned or finally determined by upholding the decision, the decision and any order will be treated as having effect from the day on which the appeal is abandoned or so determined.

Please note that in terms of section 28(1) of the Act, a landlord who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with a RSEO commits an offence liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale. A landlord (and that includes any landlord's successor in title) also commits an offence if he or she enters into a tenancy or occupancy arrangement in relation to a house at any time during which a RSEO has effect in relation to the house. This is in terms of Section 28(5) of the Act.

In witness whereof, these presents type written on this and the preceding pages are executed by Gabrielle Miller, Chair and Legal Member of the Tribunal at Glasgow on 24th April in the presence of the undernoted witness: -
